The Leadership Bible by Military Chaplains

Military Chaplains announce a new military Bible published by Military Chaplains Fellowship

WASHINGTON, D.C., Sep. 2, 2014 — Military Chaplains Fellowship, publisher of The Leadership Bible, is proud to announce a new military Bible by military chaplains.

The military chaplains state in The Leadership Bible, "The first requisite for a spiritual leader is submission to the leadership of God. The spiritual leader will be a person of prayer, who reads and studies the Bible, and who seeks to implement biblical principles and Christ-like character in all areas of life.

"All of the spiritual leaders in the Bible, whether they were prophets, priests, kings, commanders in the army, overseers, or other leaders in the church, were men and women who were led by God. The foundation of their leadership was their relationship to God and their continuing reliance on His leadership. These men and women recognized their strengths and their weaknesses; they counted on God to guide them in effective uses of strength and to build them up in areas of weakness, allowing His strength to be made perfect in their weakness (See 2 Corinthians 12:9)."

Military chaplains serving as spiritual leaders, confessors, and Bible translators see the need for a military Bible that provides leadership tools to spiritually empower military leaders to lead the US Armed Forces in an era of moral decay. Here is a new military edition by military chaplains that will serve as a reminder of the presence of God in perilous environments and that the troops can take wherever they go.

The Leadership Bible is written for anyone in military leadership, church leadership, and corporate leadership who desires to be an increasingly effective leader in any level of corporate leadership. This military Bible helps leaders see their deficits that need to be strengthened in their personal and professional lives. The special features include The Seven Principles of Leadership; military Core Values, creeds, hymns, prayers, photos, oaths of office for officers and enlisted personnel, and code of conduct; the Pledge of Allegiance; leadership quotes by the Founding Fathers and presidents of the United States; the Covenant and Code of Ethics for Chaplains of the Armed Forces; and a biblical archaeology section of places in the Holy Land.

The Leadership Bible has been endorsed by retired Flag Officers of each of the Armed Forces.

The Leadership Bible makes use of the New Tyndale Translation, translated by military chaplains, and can be purchased through Military Chaplains Fellowship at militarychaplains.org or the United States Military Chaplains Bible Society at leadershipbible.com. You can contact MCF by email at info@militarychaplains.org, or USMCBS by email at info@militarychaplaincy.com or by calling 1-760-855-3905.

The Military Chaplains Fellowship and the US Military Chaplains Bible Society are granting interviews to discuss The Leadership Bible. If you are interested in an interview with one of the chaplains who represents The Leadership Bible please contact retired Chaplain Dave Wagner at 1-760-855-3905 or info@militarychaplaincy.com.
